Welcome to the 7th EuroCAMP how did we arrive here?

with all confederation ingredients

What are we bringing here

some achievements over three years

What are we bringing here

some achievements over three years

I think all this tourism has been fun.

Plumbing is useless if there is no water running out of the taps

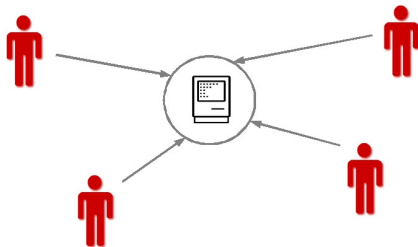

but. . .

Plumbing is useless if there is no water running out of the taps

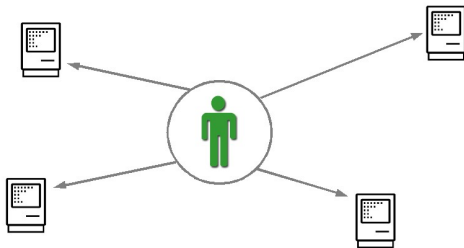

We need applications that bring users into the federated picture

A paradigm shift that changes an application centered world into a world of user centered applications

Going forward

what are we into now?

while doing it

while doing it
we should step out of our comfortable browsers

while doing it
we should step out of our comfortable browsers and care for non web applications

And the programme for this two days takes care all that
